Dear Mohammed Al-Radhi,

I hope you have had a successful and productive year. As the year winds down, I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for your support of the IEEE Young Professionals program.

Over the past two years, the IEEE program for early career professionals underwent a significant transformation from the name IEEE GOLD to IEEE Young Professionals. This occurred alongside a revamp of our products and services including a revised and comprehensive webinar series, increased accessibility to early career professional resources and improved outreach to members through our Facebook and LinkedIn communication channels.
